A Message From Dr. Winship

Rotation Is Last Word in Rural Education Today.

Dr. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, Boston, in his address to the student body and faculty Thursday morning, Dec. 4, said: "I am interested in Nodaway County because no where else are there so many schools in a county teaching the rotation idea and there is no other college behind the movement. This county is going to set the pace and this college is the power behind, which is helping to make that pace possible."

Dr. Winship said now is the time for a new message. The last word in rural education and perhaps in city education is known. After much fooling around great conclusions are finally reached. Such was true of gravitation, the shape of the earth, circulation of the blood, germ diseases. The last word in physical science has been said today, it is electrons. The last word in mental science is neurons.

Forget it; go to it, and speed up are words of advice given by Dr. Winship. How much has been done in the past must be forgotten in order that more may be done in the future. To substantiate this fact Dr. Winship cited an incident of girls employed in census work. Eight hundred copies had been the output. A man invented a machine which was reported able to put out 1,200 copies. The machine was installed, the same girls were employed in its manipulation. They got out 800 easily, they got out 900, but with nervous prostration. New girls were tried with the result that not 900 but 2,000 copies were easily made. What was the trouble? The first girls could not forget.

Some years ago the sign of all jewelers was a wooden clock registering twenty minutes past eight. Now they have a real clock on the inside registering United States Standard time. There are these same two classes of school teachers; they are either wooden head outside, twenty minutes past eight, or United States Standard time, owing to their ability to forget.

A visit to a southern incubator plant gave Dr. Winship the motive for a prayer which he has recently

Winter Term Opens—Periods Are Shortened to Save Coal. Mr. Steinsmeyer Offers His Aid to Start School Gardners.

The winter term of school opened Dec. 2. The enrollment compares very favorably with that of the fall term. At the time of going to press the number was 168.

Classes began work on Wednesday morning. In order to conserve coal the recitation periods have been shortened, the program begins at 9 o'clock and closes at 3:30.

This quarter's program offers 114 separate courses and of this number 81 are of college rank. Following are among the significant ones offered by the various departments:

Agriculture—Farm management, forage crops, feeds and feeding.

Biology—General Bacteriology, genetics.

Commerce—Business Law, accounting, civil service, and court reporting.

Education—Rural sociology, general sociology, special methods.

English—Business English, journalism, Juvenile literature literature of the Bible, Browning, the Romantic movement.

Fine Arts—Commercial art, art structure, household furnishing and decoration, applied design and book binding.

History—Current, social and political problems, Central America.

Home Economics—Economic and social problems of the home. Dietetics, teaching of home economics.

Manual Arts—Wood turning, mechanical drawing, and electrical wiring.

Mathematics—Trigonometry, Analytical geometry.

Music—Orchestra, history of music, harmony.

Physical Education—Folk games, apparatus work, advanced play and games.

Reading, Public Speaking—Short story, fundamentals of public speaking.

Eugene Yehle, a former student of our College, who at present is attending the University of Missouri, spent Thanksgiving vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Yehle, of this city.

Mr. Miller, who has returned to the College, did not meet his classes Dec. 3-4. He was assisting in the organization of the Red Cross Seals Campaign in Platte, Andrew, Atchison and Miller counties.

Mr. C. G. Steinsmeyer, instructor in agriculture at the State Teachers College, has sent to the Maryville Tribune some timely suggestions about fall plowing for the city garden that are worth bearing in mind at this time. While most people know the value of fall plowing, it is very often neglected.

Mr. Steinsmeyer also makes some inquiry about school gardens and will help establish a system of school gardens on unsightly vacant lots if the public is interested. His article follows:

Fall plowing the garden is a task most people know should be done, but it is often neglected. Everyone wants vegetables as soon as possible in the spring—the price is timely preparation of the soil. Vegetables may be grown several days, or even a couple of weeks earlier, if the soil is ready for planting when spring arrives.

It often happens in the early spring that only short periods suitable for planting intervene between rains. If the soil is in condition for planting, the early garden crops may be planted during these brief periods—time which otherwise would be used in preparation of the soil for seeding.

Fall plowed soil dries out earlier and is warmer than spring plowed land, consequently the soil may be worked earlier and vegetable growth is more rapid than in the cold, soggy spring plowed soil. Fall plowing increases soil tilth, leaves the soil open and porous in structure, increases the amount of available plant food, facilitates drainage and prepares the ground for immediate planting in the spring when the opportune time arrives.

Ordinarily, all organic matter should be plowed under rather than burned, but in order to destroy insects which may be hibernating in tomato vines, cabbage stalks, or other garden refuse, it is best to burn all trash before plowing. Many insects in the soil will be exposed to the weather and destroyed by fall plowing.

If possible, a thick covering of well rotted manure should be applied before plowing, or well pulverized manure may be applied after plowing as a top dressing. Chicken manure is an excellent top dressing. At planting time a few pounds

Five Veterans Are on the Job

Missouri Wesleyan Wins Football Championship.

The basket ball season opened with the beginning of this term. The prospects of putting out a winning team are bright.

Altho we have never been victorious in football, basketball is another story. It has been a tradition that Maryville puts out a winning team. With as good basketball material as we have and with Mr. Rice as coach we should continue the story.

Five of the veterans are on the job this year: "Big Bill" Richards, captain; Puckett; Egley; Sawyers, and Wells.

Other prospects for the squad are Clyde Sawyers, Adams, Ramsey, Carter, Elmore, King, Stewart, J. Wells, Nelson, Houchens and Yehle.

The following schedule of games has been secured. More may be added.

K. C. Polytechnic at Maryville, January 16.

Tarkio at Tarkio, January 23.

Kirksville at Kirksville, Feb. 3.

Central College at Fayette, Feb. 4.

Warrensburg at Warrensburg, February 5.

Polytechnic at Kansas City, February 6.

Warrensburg at Maryville Feb. 12.

Central Wesleyan at Maryville, February 26.

Kirksville at Maryville, Mar. 4.

Tarkio at Tarkio, March 19.

There will be keen competition for the squad. To aid in choosing the squad three tournament teams have been chosen: The Tornadoes, the Hurricanes, and the Cyclones.

The Tornadoes are: Puckett, captain; Ramsey, Houchens, Stewart, King, and Sewell. Cyclones: Richards, captain; Coler, Nelson, Elmore, Wells, Carter, Argo. Hurricanes: Adams, captain, Yehle, Egley, Thompson, and Sawyers.

The Puckett team has won from the Richards 30-13, and from Adams' 33-7. Adams' team won from Richards' 9-6.

Missouri Wesleyan won the honors in football in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

MESSAGE FROM DR. WINSHIP. MR. STEINSMeyer OFFERS AID.

been paying: "Oh Lord, forgive me for all the cold storage stuff I have ever put over." School, he said, is an incubating plant, not a place for storing antiquities.

Teachers must begin the education of the pupils with things they know and can learn about. They must have new things. The psychology of the new is marvelous. As the old redwood tree trunk and branches are useful only in the new which springs up around the tree because of the new on those branches, so in education the old is useful only in the making of new. Nothing makes timber but the new growth.

From an article on "Sticking Point," Dr. Winship showed it has been proved that in training race horses it is found that they go so far and then stick; go again and then stick and continue on, going and sticking. This likewise is true in vegetable life, and in the social world. The chief business of the school today is to catch the boy or girl at the sticking point and not let him waste time there.

A real teacher can't teach this year what he taught last year. He is hired for the year 1919, not 1918. If he does teach the same, he is getting money under false pretenses. The rotation plan makes this antiqueness impossible. Whenever a teacher does not want to teach the new, but does want to do what he did last year, it is time to send for the doctor for that teacher has high blood pressure. He is atrophying. Some teachers have already shown signs of this condition in their attitude toward rotation. Rotation is an onward movement; it has even caused martyrs. Rotation has the underlying principles of progress.

In closing his address, Dr. Winship again spoke of the neuron. Neurons receive and obey orders. Those which have not been trained—here he illustrated by telling of his lack of memory training in the past—are I. W. W.'s; they are bolsheviks. Neurons answer to inspiration, to pattern, and the supreme genius of the teaching profession is he who punches the holes thru which the threads run which guide the boys and girls today in doing and thinking things.

Dr. Keller accompanied Dr. Winship and Mr. Cooper in their visits to rural schools on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 4.

Jeannie Blacklock returned to the College Monday after a week's absence caused by illness.

Mr. E. W. Glenn refereed a football game Thanksgiving Day at Tarkio. The Tarkio team played the "All American" team which won, 9-0.

of commercial fertilizer may be used to good advantage.

It would be a good plan if all the vacant lots in the city which have been growing weeds could be plowed this fall, and some of them utilized as school gardens next spring, thus affording a means of instruction in gardening and profitable labor for many of the school children and at the same time helping to beautify the city through elimination of the unattractive weed patches.

Literary Societies Entertained at Joint Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Philomathean, Eureka and Excelsior Literary Societies was held in Room 216, Dec. 4. Miss Winn entertained the societies.

The chairs were arranged in groups and as each individual received a number on entering the room, he joined a certain group. The groups were first asked to give suggestions for the improvement of our literary societies. The following points were given:

1. Greater responsibility on the part of individual members to carry out the ideals of his or her society.
2. Promote social life among the students of the College and develop the talent of its membership through its literary programs.
3. Contests of various kinds between societies to arouse enthusiasm.
4. Variety in programs.
5. "Kick out" inactive members.
6. Give credit for work in literary societies.
7. No classes at the seventh period on Thursday.
8. Joint programs and entertainments.
9. Full enrollment and ninety-five percent attendance.
10. Enter collegiate contests and become members of inter-collegiate associations for literary work.
11. Notify individual one month before time to serve on program and post program two weeks before date of rendering.
12. Critics who give constructive criticism.
13. Public programs once each quarter.
14. Each society present one play during the year.

After the serious question had been discussed much merriment was caused by less serious questions:

1. The most popular boy in school. Answer—Jasper Adams, Euel Ramsey, Bill Richards, and William DeVore.
2. Pocket books.
3. Which is more destructive, fire or water?
4. What is the latest news? Answer—It isn't out.

5. What would you do if you had one bucket of coal? Answer—I would go to see my girl.

After the strenuous mental effort, refreshments of tea and sandwiches were served.

Each of the fifty students and instructors enjoyed the afternoon immensely.

The following committees helped to make possible a delightful afternoon.

Carrie Mae Coler, Ethel Sloan, and Ernest McDonald aided Miss Winn in the reception of the guests. Viola Barber, Carrie Mae Coler, Ferd Masters, and Lola Moore served the refreshments. Helen Dean assisted in providing the form of entertainment. Josephine Grimes, Viola Brandt and Ethel Sloan arranged the room.

Chicken Culling Demonstration Given.

C. G. Steinmeyer of the agriculture department of the College gave a demonstration at Barnard, Wednesday, in culling non-laying hens from the flock. Two flocks of hens on nearby farms were culled. Considerable interest was manifested in the work and several owners of chickens asked that their flocks be culled. M. Steinmeyer plans to do this work some Saturday. Though the best time to cull the flock is from the last of August to the first of November, yet it may be done profitably any time during the year.

Harold Staples, a former student, who is working as an official publicity photographer with the Marsh Photo Supply Company at San Francisco, Cal., sent home some pictures of National celebrities recently.

He made pictures of King Albert, President Wilson, and other prominent persons and has been out to sea on many occasions to make pictures.

Mrs. Arthur A. Leet of Omaha, Nebr., has enrolled in the State Teachers College for the winter quarter. While in school she is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Gann.

Sophomores Have Line Party.

The sophomore class enjoyed a good time at a line party Friday evening, Nov. 21.

The class met at Miss Brunner's rooms over the Conservatory. From here they went in a body to the first show at the Empire Theater.

After the show refreshments were had at the Candy Kitchen. About twenty sophomores comprised the party.

Everyone seemed to have a good time. The sophomore class, which is a live class, has had during the past semester many good times. However, it is certain that they will have many more good times this semester.

Myrtle Argo has accepted a position with Moore Bros. and will not be in school during the winter term.

Roscoe Stanbus, right tackle on the Dury football team was chosen as captain of their next year's football team.

Victory Reeves was elected as captain of next year's team at the Springfield Teachers College.

No captain has been elected for Maryville's team next year.

Miss Beatrix Winn spent the Thanksgiving vacation visiting friends near Fayette, at Moberly and at Howard Payne College.

She was the guest of Mrs. Zach Crews Nov. 26-29, spent Nov. 30 with friends at Howard Payne College and Dec. 1 visited friends in Moberly.

While in the latter place she attended the meeting where they organized the local section of the State Teachers Association.

Mr. P. P. Callaway, a former teacher here during one summer session, Bernice, Camille, and Beulah Beggs, former students, were among the number Miss Winn knew.

Mr. Callaway, Bernice and Camille Beggs are teaching in the public school and Beulah Beggs is working in the office of the County Clerk.

Dr. Keller will go to King City next Saturday to deliver an address at a meeting of the teachers of Gentry County.

Smith-Stevenson.

Marilla Smith and John Stevenson were married Wednesday, Nov. 26, at the home of the Methodist minister in Hopkins. They went to Kansas City for a short visit with friends. Mrs. Stevenson will finish her term of school. Mrs. Stevenson was a former student of the College. Fern Scarlett, a student, attended the wedding.

Miss Anthony received a letter from Lilly Nelson, who is teaching at Fairfax. She is doing community center work with her school activities. She also helps in making the assembly programs and is doing quite constructive work.

MANUAL ARTS NOTES.

Two new saws, one a rip saw and the other a circular saw, are ready for use in the manual arts department. They are to be used in the mill room for the table saw.

Thirty-six students are already enrolled in this department and there will be a few more if the conflicts can be remedied.

Several students are taking the new and practical course in electrical wiring. The four rooms of the manual arts department are to be wired so as to connect the rooms with bells. Later Mr. Glenn plans to rewire old cars for practice work. This is a very practical course and contains all that ordinary electrical workers need and nothing that they will not need.

Some of the beginning classes are making Christmas toys. Kiddie Kars, Black Cat candle sticks, sleds and wagons are among the list. Some of these things will be sold if not taken by the students.

Of Interest to Our Advertisers.

Business men often wonder if it pays to advertise in college papers. Two of the advertisers in the Courier have learned that it does. Our advertising managers got the telephone numbers of two of the butchers changed. All week Mr. Reimer was called to the phone to find himself addressed as Mr. Stapler.

We are very sorry that we made this mistake and will correct it at once. From another point of view we are glad we made it, because it proves conclusively that people do read our advertisements and act upon the information contained therein.

Myrtle Hughbanks and Benjamin E. Gossard were united in marriage Nov. 29 at the home of the Rev. Dr. Cox. Mrs. Gossard is a former student of the College.

Fannie Albright and Ralph Wright were married at the home of the groom's sister in Skidmore, Mo., Nov. 26. Mrs. Wright is a former student of the College.

Mr. Wells spent Nov. 26 in Maitland and Oregon, classifying the library of the latter place.

Henry Gannon, a former student, visited in Maryville Thanksgiving.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Harriet Van Buren, B. S. 1920, has gone to Butte, Neb., to teach English and history in the high school. Lou Mutz, 1919, teaches in the grades there.

Dr. Edgar Hull, 1916, who is practicing dentistry at Tarkio, sends his regards to the school. His family is well and happy. He has a nice office and all the work he can do.

Clarence Perry, 1914, who is teaching Manual Training in Great Falls, Montana, renewed his subscription to the Courier by paying his Alumni dues last week.

Miss Hildred Hanna, 1914, and Henry D. Toel, of St. Joseph were married December 6. An announcement party was given by Miss Ora Barmaun and Miss Marjorie Wilfley. The guests were the members of the Hum Drum and Bridge Clubs, of which Miss Hanna is a member. Many other parties were given in her honor.

Lucy Crockett, 1917, has accepted a position in Omaha. The schools there are closed at present, however, because of a shortage of coal.

The attendance in the Fairfax High School is larger than usual this year, making it necessary to add a fourth teacher. The faculty is: Superintendent J. A. Findley, a graduate of the Springfield Teachers College; Principal, Elizabeth J. McCormick, 1913; Lillie R. Nelson, 1918; and Blanche McMahon, 1919. Three of the faculty are alumnae of our College.

Under the leadership of Miss McMahon, the high school girls have organized a Camp Fire Circle. On Thursday evening, Nov. 13 a moving picture, "Beyond the Shadows," was given for the benefit of that society.

The Girl's Glee Club which meets Wednesday night with their director, Mrs. E. P. Taylor, is making progress.

Thirty minutes each Monday morning are devoted to opening exercises consisting of musical numbers and readings by various members of the student body. Miss Nelson has charge of this assembly for each week.

Singing as a Physical Exercise.

Interesting data have been gathered to show that the practice of singing as a physical exercise is one of the most healthful in which a person can employ himself.

Two hundred and twenty-two singers were examined in Paris and it was shown that the circumference of the chest is greater among singers than among those who do not sing.

One cannot sing without breathing freely. The muscles of the chest and abdomen must have full play. A fine voice is of little consequence if the singer cannot breathe freely and to the very bottom of the lungs.

Everyone knows the stimulating effect of a long-drawn breath after sitting in a cramped position. This same stimulating effect is reproduced by frequent practice in singing.—Exchange.

Mr. Metzler drove to St. Joseph Dec. 1.

Celia Welden spent vacation between terms at her home in Gilman City.

Y. W. NOTES.

The Y. W. held its first meeting of the new term, Wednesday, Dec. 3. An interesting talk was given by Mrs. White on Christian Education. She said Christian education applied to each individual and that the four main points of Christian education were: Wisdom, stature, favor with God religiously, and favor with man socially.

She said also that the field of service for girls was the whole world. Service enriches a girl's aim in life, her family life, the community life, and lastly the nation's life.

A reading was given by Mrs. Steinsmeyer and also one by Mary Croy; they were enjoyed by the girls.

A membership campaign was also started. Each girl was given a card to fill out to pledge herself as a member. Every girl in college should belong to this organization.

The president of the Y. W. has received the credentials for the delegates who will attend the convention at Des Moines. The delegates are Grace Stevenson, Eulah Pearce and Elizabeth Leet.

Exhibits of Hats and Costumes Held

"Always at Your Service."

THE STROLLER.

"Tin, tin; come in, how much tin will you have today?"

Do you remember back in the days so long ago?

Now the query is: "How much coal have you today?"

By the way, if the local coal situation should not improve, would Dow Blanche, or Field Caught? Would More house keep Glayds any warmer? If Mr. Fannon would sell wood, and if it were Long enough, who would Carter? Do you think Scarlett would make you feel any warmer? And, if you had Wood, who would Sawyers any way? Could you find timber in a Dale, or would it take a couple of Masters? Could you eat food whether or not it were Cooked? Oh, Wells, what's the use?

Do you know who is the most popular boy in school? These are some of the reasons why he is:

1. He is from Maryville.
2. He is president of the Sophomore Class.

3. He is a Philo.
  4. He is a football star.
  5. He got his nose broken and didn't mind it a bit.
  6. He is going to win the extemporaneous speech in the inter-society contest.
  7. He was in the most popular bunch, bunch number two.
- The Stroller moves that the newest dance be entitled: "The Coal Bucket and the Shovel."

At any rate, all the fuss has not cut down the requirements for the 60 hour, much to the Stroller's disgust.

Get pretty lonesome between breakfast and nine o'clock, don't you?

What has become of the teacher who used to cut his library assignment down because there were only a few books for the whole class, and the library grew cold at 4 o'clock?

Well, there's one consolation. The Stroller stands a better chance by 15 minutes of answering every question each recitation than he did formerly.

There's some satisfaction in taking a "b" course. You have to find out right away if you passed in "a." That is some balm to a quaking heart.

We pass this one on to Mr. Brink and Mr. Steinsmeyer. We wonder if they can beat it:

A group of farmers not far from Maryville were discussing the ravages of potato bugs.

"The pests ate my whole potato crop in two weeks," said one farmer.

"They ate my crop in two days," said a second farmer, "and then they roosted on the trees to see if I would plant more."

A traveling salesman who was traveling for a seed house, cleared his throat.

"That's remarkable," he said,

"but let me tell you what I saw in our own store. I saw a couple of potato bugs examining the books about a week before planting time to see who had bought seed.

If you see Miss Winn strutting around the halls, ask her how many turkeys she helped eat during vacation.

I understand it was nearer the dozen mark than two.
